

MN Angels Clinic Introduces Wilson

MN Angels Clinic is introducing a new member to its team, certified nurse practitioner Monica Wilson. Wilson adds a pediatric specialist to the clinic, with the intention of building up that aspect of the practice. Prior to landing at MN Angels Clinic, located at 4405 Holland-Sylvania Rd., Suite 104, Wilson worked as a registered nurse at Henry County Hospital and attended the University of Toledo. At Henry County Hospital, she worked with patients of all ages, in the process garnering a wide array of experience. She has bachelors and master's degrees in nursing and is certified in pediatric care. While in school, she worked some clinical hours at MN Angels Clinic and started working there in August. Wilson, who is originally from Napoleon, has known she wanted to work with kids since she was one herself. "I love kids," she said. "I started babysitting at 12, was a camp counselor all through high school and college and always knew that I wanted to work with children. Kids are my passion; I never wanted to do anything but work with kids. "I feel like a kid myself when working with kids. They're great, and they're very forgiving, even after shots," she added. She follows the MN Angels Clinic philosophy of providing holistic care. Her nursing background helps in that area, as she brings a much more caring approach as opposed to a strictly medical approach. Wilson is particularly knowledgeable about obesity in children. She seeks to help children with medical conditions that lead to weight problems, conditions such as metabolic syndrome and hypo-thyroidism. So far, so good for Wilson at MN Angels Clinic. She loves the environment and her fellow co-workers. "The entire experience here has been very positive, and everyone has been great. Teamwork is a given here," she noted. The staff is as happy with Wilson as she is with them. "She's a qualified, beautiful girl and a wonderful addition," office manager Agnes Lasu said. Wilson works with kids in the age range from birth to 21. She works full days on Tuesdays and Thursdays. For more information call 419-882-6784.
